

HUNTER GIRL FAVORS "MAKE-UP" FOR GIRLS IGNORED BY NATURE; CALLS MEN CRITICS HYPOCRITES

College Lass Makes a Snappy Contribution to the Discussion of the "Paint and Powder Girl," and She's "Mad Clear Through"—Other Writers Give Varying Views.

Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

How far ought a woman to go in making herself pretty?

Is it dishonest for her to use paint and powder?

Even the college girl is going to express her opinion on these questions which have started so lively a discussion among Evening World readers. And, contrary to the popular impression of the feminine "highbrow" who wears a cap and gown, the youthful representative of higher education, who writes to me from Hunter College, is frankly on the side of the girl who believes in letting art improve on nature, when it comes to complexions.

"Hunter College," as she signs herself, also has a mean word to say to the male critics of make-up. Will one of their dare to raise his head in these columns, after reading what this college girl thinks of him?

"It makes me mad clear through," she declares, "to hear men deplore the disappearance of the modest unpainted girl. They are such hypocrites! As Eide Dudley said in his column yesterday: 'Will the men take girls out that don't doll up?' No, indeed, not they. They'll talk—and that's all."

"Although I don't use makeup myself, outside of a touch of rouge occasionally, when I look pale, I don't blame the girls a bit, because a little rouge does make a difference. And the men won't look at a girl if she doesn't use make-up, in spite of what they say."

NO DISHONESTY IN THE USE OF COSMETICS.

Here's another straight-from-the-shoulder letter from an American girl: "Dear Madam: Please allow me to express my humble opinion about the 'red-hot' question, 'To Rouge or Not to Rouge.'"

"Miss Booth says: '(1) That a woman who uses make-up is dishonest. Is the shopkeeper dishonest who gives his faded, unattractive store a fresh coat of paint? Is the cripple who hides his deformity dishonest? Is the girl who naturally looks like a 'before taking' ad dishonest for putting color in her cheeks, nature having failed down on the job? '(2) That men prefer 'natural' women. Men prefer all kinds of women. What a monotonous world otherwise! When real men come to the big decision they are not thinking of rouge or lack of it."

"(3) That the enormous sale of cosmetics is a disgrace to the United States. This simply signifies universal approval. The purchasers come from all walks of life—ministers' wives, daughters; laborers' wives, daughters; Senators' wives, daughters. Their mothers, too, and—"

"(4) That divorcees are caused by women's attempts to deceive their husbands regarding their appearance. Hardly, in this age of cynicism! Anyhow, no man can get a divorce on account of a sudden aversion to his wife's looks, even in Connecticut. If a man is shallow enough to fall in love with a work of art he deserves to be—" disillusioned. If he can't see the soul, character and personality shining through the make-up, he doesn't count in the scheme of things anyway."

THIS YOUNG MAN FOR THE NATURAL COLOR.

The following letter is from a young man:

"Dear Madam: Your column on the use of cosmetics has drawn my interest, but are there really no arguments against the use of the same?"

"Really, is it not disgusting to hear the same old excuse—that all girls are not gifted with nature's graces coloring?"

"I will defy any one on this point. Any one can have wonderful color—providing she knows how to get it. But, she argues, why should she take all that trouble, when a powder can be a much more convenient?"

"And why should she take nice long walks in our parks, when a dance hall gives more enjoyment? So the parks are empty and the dance halls full."

"Ice skating is a wonderful rouse, yet many girls prefer the movies, or the theatre. Many a Sunday morning can be spent out in the open, improving one's health—instead of in the bed that the majority of girls prefer."

"A pale face usually shows that something is wrong with the system, and just adding coloring is like painting a car the engine of which is falling apart. A few less chocolate eclairs and a little more care would improve the coloring of many of our young ladies, and eliminate one of the greatest shams of the age—rouge. Closing with my hat in the ring."

"J. D."

ADmits THE POTENCY OF "A FEW JUDICIOUS JABS."

"Dear Madam: Let me say first—"

PORTO RICAN NOMINATIONS.

Senate Passes Governor's Appointments, Sitting All Night.

Copyright (New York Evening World) by Press Publishing Company, 1922. SAN JUAN, P. R., Feb. 17.—After an all-night session the Senate has confirmed thirty-two of the forty-five nominations submitted by the Governor. Among these was that of Dr. Walter Glines as American member of the Board of Health. The others are all judicial and administrative officials. The nominations of Commissioner Wilson of the Interior, Commissioner Lippitt of Sanitation, Commissioner Laorrie of Labor and Agriculture, Rafael Diaz Clinton as District Judge, Jose Aybar as Municipal Judge and eight others are still pending. The Senate, in the debate, severely criticized the Governor's recess appointments and the dismissal of Municipal Judge Gustavo Jimenez of San Juan.

cathartics— one of the chief causes of constipation?

The quotation is taken from an important paper on the treatment of constipation by a well-known physician

DID it ever occur to you that the cathartic you take to relieve constipation, is the cause of your trouble?

Yet when a number of doctors were discussing this almost universal complaint one of them said: "Probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation is the indiscriminate use of cathartics." For years physicians have tried to persuade people to give up laxatives and to eat corrective foods instead.

It is now known that Fleischmann's Yeast is a food which makes the use of cathartics unnecessary. Because of its freshness it helps the intestines eliminate waste matter.

People who are adding Fleischmann's Yeast to their daily diet find that their body functions are kept normal and regular. Eat 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast before or between meals every day. Place a standing order with your grocer. He will deliver Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily.
